What’s New in Blackboard

While Blackboard’s function will remain the same, there will be the following enhancements:

- The color scheme and skin of Blackboard have been updated.

- Adding files has been made easier with the new “Drag and Drop” feature. Students can use this feature to upload assignments. Faculty can use this to upload their lecture materials, syllabi, and other documents.

- Blackboard’s website now includes responsive design features. Whether on a mobile device, tablet, or different sized computer monitor, the content will automatically adjust to fit.

- Blackboard has enhanced their mobile apps for both faculty and students.

Additionally, for Faculty

- Making a course “available” to students can now be done with one click. A new button, resembling a lock, has been added in the upper right corner of each course.

- The Grade Center has been re-designed to include larger cells, making it simpler to enter grades.